Welcome

Sundial Care Home is a beautiful Devon Care Home within the country residence enriched with history situated in Tipton St John.

Stepping into a new phase of life by moving in to a care home can be both a profound and daunting transition. We understand that this step marks a significant life change which is where our commitment lies in crafting an environment that resonates with a warm, welcoming, safe and nurturing community that residents, who we affectionately refer to as family members, can call home.

Our team are dedicated to fostering a family-like atmosphere and never leaving anyone feeling like strangers in a strange land.

Our Values

Integrity

“To do the right thing, even when no one is looking.”

People Driven

“The experience people have when they engage with our community.”

Compassion

“To act with empathy and understanding.”

Excellence

“Consistently strive to achieve the highest possible objective standard.”

Our Community

Relationships made in the community gives us a sense of purpose and a sense of belonging. It is our connections and meaningful relationships with other people where we draw our strength.

Being part of a community can lift us when we are down and empower us to face what challenges come our way.

We enable and encourage family members to continue to participate in the parts of the community that are important to them, both inside and outside the home.

Our Care

Our model of care brings a heartfelt change to the care sector, focusing on turning a care facility into a welcoming home.

Our aptly named “household” model of care is an approach that seeks to create an environment and care support that closely resembles a traditional home setting for individuals no longer able to live on their own. It aims to foster a sense of belonging, autonomy, and well-being by designing our support and environment to mimic the experience of living at home.

Instead of the usual clinical settings, this approach strives to make the people in our care feel like they're truly at home, surrounded by warmth and familiarity.
